Atomic Fission

Atomic fission is simply the breaking of an atom into two parts, with an accompanying release of energy which appears as process, we actually convert only heat. In the combustion of coal, lumps to a temperature at which they will combine with oxygen and release more heat, and so on.

One of the important differences between Combustion and fission is this: in combustion some of the heat released must be used to keep the chain reaction. Roing; in a fission chain-reaction, the heat released is not necessary to a continuation of the process, it is rather a by-product.

The all-important agents here are the inconceivably tiny particles known as neutrons, which can cause atoms to fission, or split, and which are released from fissioning atoms in sufficient quantities to keep the process going.

That is, when a neutron hits While young men in Pretoria an atom, the atom breaks in two, and spills out two or three more are growing beards and women, neutrons which are then ready young and old, are buying up to attack and split other atoms, voluminous gowns to wear at and so the process goes on. Surrender Of National Sovereignty Premature WARNING MORRISON'S

Strasbourg, August 17. Mr. Winston Churchill today joined the "hasten slowly" camp at the European Assembly, counselling moderation.

He described as premature any immediate steps to seek the surrender of national sovereignty in furthering European unity.

The clash which many delegates had expected between Mr. Churchill and Mr. Herbert Morrison, the British Deputy Prime Minister, was thus averted.

It further recommended that a separate Secretariat be established for the Assembly and that the Committee of Ministers be served by a permanent international Civil Service to give

Remarkable Rise In Europe's Birth Rate

Geneva, August 17.

A remarkable rise in Europe's post-war birth rate has gone nearly half way to make up for the loss of 15,000,000 Europeans killed during the war, according to a United Nations population study.

The study reveals that Europe's population outside Russia fell from 392,000,000 in 1938, to 371,-900,000 at the end of 1945. War losses accounted for more than 15,000,000 of these, of whom the greater part, more than 9,000,000, were civilians.

Time Declarations

(By George Tribe.)

Low, G.F. Blenkinsop, P. Thomp- Should a rule enforcing declarations be introduced into league cricket?

The point has been put to me on several occasions recently due, I suspect, to slow scoring in one or two league games. As an idea I understand it has been discussed by individual-members of the Central Lancashire League Committee from time to time without reaching the voting stage. Let me say at once that I don't [favour forced declarations and for several reasons.

Let Captain Decide

A captain who wing the toss should have full advantage of all conditions, not only of the wicket. A time limit, in my view would lessen the advantage gained from calling correctly, and in conquence reduce the status captaincy.

After all, the initiative should be left with the captain to decide when to declare.

League cricket differs from county cricket largely because of the stready existing times limit. Wickets are sporting and as a rule the successful team must attack from first ball. And by attack I mean not only hitting the ball bu by using everything you have got in bowling and fielding/ I have adopted my style to
